

Askhan Shametov

Almaty, Kazakhstan | +7778 413 4963 | Askhan.shametov@gmail.com

Education

Master of Science: Biology

University of Minnesota – Twin Cities - Minneapolis, MN

- Thesis: Survival and performance of Lower Mississippi walleye strain relative to northern walleye strain in southern Minnesota
- Received “Bolashak” scholarship provided by the Government of Kazakhstan

Master of Natural Studies: Biology

Al-Farabi Kazakh National University - Almaty, Kazakhstan

- Thesis: The helminths of carps of water reservoirs of South Kazakhstan region

Bachelor of Agriculture: Fish Industry & Industrial Fishing

Al-Farabi Kazakh National University - Almaty, Kazakhstan

Research Experiences

Research Assistant

Department of Fisheries, Wildlife, and Conservation Biology. University of Minnesota - Twin Cities, Minneapolis, MN

Researcher

Institute of Biology and Biotechnology, Almaty, Kazakhstan

Professional Presentations

- Presentation entitled “The helminths of Carps of water reservoirs of South Kazakhstan region” in defense for Master of Natural Studies in 2013.
- Poster presentation entitled “Natural reproduction of Walleye populations in southern Minnesota” concerning a genetic assessment of naturally reproducing and stocked Walleye populations in southern Minnesota at the virtual 81th Annual Midwest Fish and Wildlife conference in 2021.
- Paper presentation entitled “The impacts of heavy metals on the gut microbiome in Common Carp (Cyprinus carpio)” with grade 19.5 out of 20 for “Fish Physiology and Behavior” course in 2020.